Phase 1 Intake Questionnaire

Employee and Position Information

Private — May include medical detail — Do not share with the agency

---

> Complete as many fields as possible. Fields left blank will prompt follow-up questions. The more complete this questionnaire, the more accurate the brainstorm analysis will be.

Part A — Representative or User Information

1. Are you the employee or a representative?
2. If representative: has the employee formally authorized you? Yes / No
3. If representative: has the RAC been notified of your role? Yes / No
4. Contact information for whoever is completing this questionnaire:

Part B — Employee Information

1. Employee pronouns:
2. Job series and title:
3. Grade level:
4. Agency, component, and office (e.g., HHS/CDC/OD/ORR):
5. Duty station (city and state):
6. Is the employee a bargaining unit employee? Yes / No / Unknown
7. Is the employee currently in a probationary period? Yes / No

---

Part C — Position Information

1. List the essential functions of the employee's position as written in the position description or PMAP. Include each function separately and describe it in enough detail to understand what it requires:
    - Function 1:
    - Function 2:
    - Function 3:

- Function 4:
- (add as needed)

2. Does the position description or PMAP identify onsite attendance as an essential function? Yes / No / Unknown
3. Has the employee performed this position fully via telework at any point? Yes / No
4. If yes, describe when, for how long, and what the documented outcome was (e.g., performance rating received):
5. Have the essential functions or position description changed since the employee last teleworked? Yes / No / Describe:

Part D — Health and Functional Information

Note: Describe impairments and symptoms in plain terms. Diagnostic labels are optional and will not appear in any agency-facing document.

1. What physical or neurological impairments does the employee have? Describe generally:
2. Are the conditions chronic and permanent, time-limited, or variable? Describe:
3. Are any conditions episodic? If so, describe the general frequency, duration, and severity of acute episodes:
4. List each symptom or functional effect the employee experiences, particularly those that affect work. For each, describe how it shows up in a typical workday:
    - Effect 1:
    - Effect 2:
    - Effect 3:
    - Effect 4:
    - (add as needed)
5. Are there specific environmental triggers (e.g., lighting, scent, noise, temperature)? Describe:
6. Does the employee have difficulty sitting, standing, or walking for extended periods? Describe:
7. Does the employee have difficulty with transit to the office? Describe what about that transit is difficult and what it does to her functionally before or during the workday:
8. After arriving at the office, does the employee need recovery time before beginning work? If so, how much and how often:
9. Are there any safety consequences when acute episodes occur at the worksite (e.g., inability to drive, inability to leave the building)? Describe:

10. Does the employee have difficulty with any of the following? Check all that apply and describe briefly:
    - Concentrating or sustaining attention:
    - Initiating or organizing complex tasks:
    - Managing multiple simultaneous priorities:
    - Verbal communication in real time:
    - Written communication:
    - Regulating responses under stress or in conflict situations:
    - Processing information at speed:
    - Memory or retaining verbal instructions:
11. Are there any other symptoms or functional effects relevant to work that have not been captured above?

Part E — Initial Accommodation Thoughts

Optional — answer if the employee or representative has already thought about this.

1. Has the employee identified any specific accommodations she believes she needs? List them:
2. Has the employee previously used any accommodations formally or informally that were helpful? Describe:
3. Are there accommodations the employee has tried that were not effective? Describe: